Why Show Up?

- Everything I could tell you is already online, on demand, for free.
- What isn't online: thinking out loud, live, under real pressure, with me and each other.
- That live friction is the only reason worth showing up for.

How We'll Play

- Be ready to react, not just listen. Use your critical thinking.
- At any moment, I may call on you: what are you thinking right now?
- Ask sharp questions: there is only one stupid question
- One joker

Assignements and grading

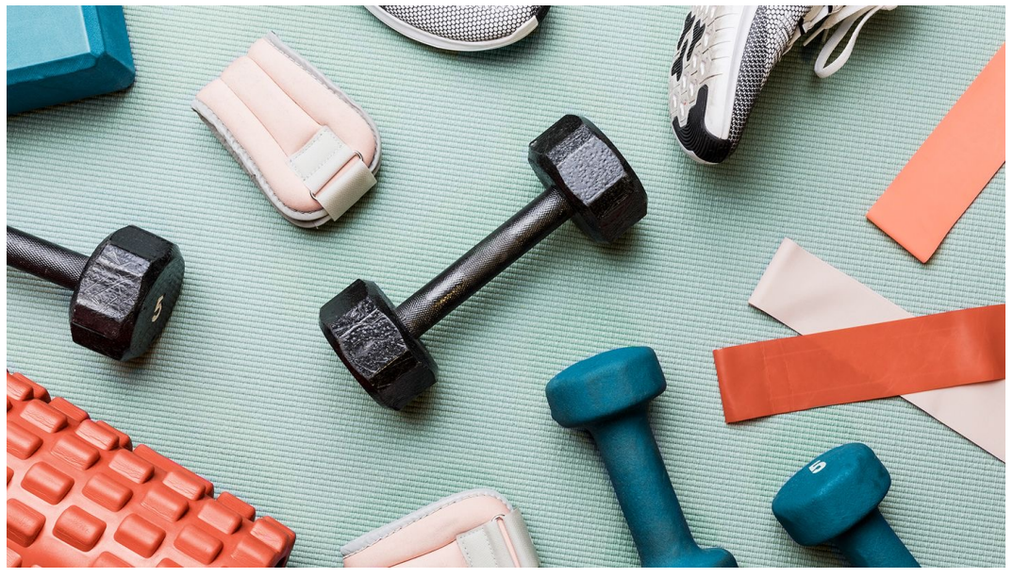

No shadow AI!

Assignements and grading In the age of AI

What skills are important in the age of AI?

- Learning how to learn
- Work in teams
- Critical thinking
- Ability to reflect

=> Assignments designed accordingly

Grades

- Graded Quizzes for each of the video sessions (15%)
- Assignment 1: Individual work: Description of an existing innovative business model: peer assessed (20%) (25% on this grade depends on the quality of your feedback)
- Assignment 2 : Team work: Imagine a new business model (40%)
- Assignment 3 : Final individual essay (25%)

All assignements have to be uploaded on Blackboard

(specific « Assignment » section)

Assignment 1: 3 steps

1. Describe an existing business model
2. Assess 3 of your peers (14 detailed criteria)
3. Review their feedback

FeedbackFruits

Assignment 1: peer assessment

50	%	Average ratings received from reviewers
10	%	Average ratings received as a reviewer

Received reviews and feedback-on-feedback

3	%	Has read all received feedback
7	%	Gave feedback-on-feedback

100 %

Your peers' assessement

Assignment 3: Post-course work
2 options

- Option 1: Reflect and write about how this course has changed the way you think about strategy and/or innovation

- Option 2: Develop a pedagogical AI agent/webapp designed to help students learn and apply the Odyssey 3.14 approach. Share the tool, and write a short reflection (200 words) on whether (and how) this tool could enhance the learning experience for next year's students.

For our next session on Sept 2

- Start watching the videos
- Think about the business model of the products / apps / services you are using
- List the questions you may have
- Read the PinDuoDuo case
